Glenmarie Golf & Country Club

The Glenmarie Club consists of a pair of lovely courses, called the Garden and Valley Courses, located within the Pan Pacific Glenmarie Resort. Both are designed by Max Wexler, with the Garden Course being the longer of the two, at 7017 yards, par 72 from the back tees. Due to its length, buggies are mandatory for play. The Garden Course is floodlit to enable night-time golfing. As there are two lakes on the course, do be aware of potential water hazards.

Kota Permai Golf & Country Club

This course is all about superb layout and excellent facilities. This immaculately Watson-designed is stimulating and challenging, and has been the venue for the prestigious Volvo Masters of Malaysia for the last few years. Kota Permai is easily accessible via the KESAS highway and just a 10 minute drive from Subang Jaya as it is part of the new township of Kota Kemuning. Take note of its interesting mix of grasses - the greens are typically Tifdwarf, while the fairways are turfed with "Matrella", a strain of Zoysia.

The club is located in the new township of Kota Kemuning, a 1,820 acre Hicom-Gamuda development project just south of Shah Alam.

Saujana Golf & Country Club

The Saujana is one Malaysia's finest golf courses, with international recognition among world-class players. Sand traps, water hazards, and cleverly-placed pins are some of the challenges on this course. Some of the courses include the Palm Course, aptly dubbed "The Cobra" for its testing and challenging layout. The course plays 6565 yards off the blue tees and 6959 yards from the black. It has the most talked about greens in Malaysia, as putting on the greens is no mean feat. On the other hand, the Bunga Raya Course or "The Crocodile" is about wide expanses of water and undulating greenery with a terrific sense of freedom created by its clever use of space. Although the course does not have many ravines and thick woods, it looks deceptively easy. Many have undermined it and fumbled at this challenge.

A golfing excursion in Malaysia is never complete without a visit to Saujana Golf & Country Club - one of the 100 Best Golf Resorts in the world and without doubt, Malaysia's No.1.
